

Alexandro Fuentelzas

7501 Fisher Dr, Falls Church, VA 22043 | 571-581-0217 | alex271@live.com

Objective

To obtain a spring or summer internship in a computer science related area to further my knowledge of the field.

Education

George Mason University

Falls Church, VA

• Bachelor of Science in Computer Science

Graduation Expected in May 2021

GPA: 3.69

Experience

Global Institute of Technology Services

June '18 - Present

Marketing Team - Social Media Marketing Intern/Blogger

Fairfax, VA

Managed the company's social media platforms and network while promoting their services to the community. Published blogs regarding the tech field.

Skills

Languages – Python, Java, C, HTML, CSS

Databases – Familiar with SQL

Operating Systems – Windows, Unix, Linux

Mobile – Android

Independent Projects

Tetrimonoes – Tetrimonoes, a remake version inspired by the classical game, Tetris. Collision detection is fully functional and optimal placement detection can be activated at the user's choice for easier block placement.

Fall '17

Cipher Texts – Application that receives the user's desired encoded text and encrypts their information with the choice of a Vigenere, Caesar, or Rail Cipher.

Fall '17

X-Spend - X-Spend is a financial app created to keep track of expenses while sharing spending habits with both the user and friends or family members.

Fall '17

Activities and Leadership

Student-Run Computing and Technology Club

Contribute to the development of cross-platform applications and websites for students at George Mason.