Alexandro Fuentelzas

7501 Fisher Dr, Falls Church, VA 22043 | 571-581-0217 | alex271@live.com

Objective

To obtain a spring or summer internship in a computer science related area to further my knowledge of the field.

Education

George Mason University   Falls Church, VA

· Bachelor of Science in Computer Science   Graduation Expected in May 2021

                                                                         GPA: 3.69

Experience

Global Institute of Technology Services   June '18 - Present

Marketing Team - Social Media Marketing Intern/Blogger   Fairfax, VA

Managed the company's social media platforms and network while promoting their services to the community. Published blogs regarding the tech field.

Skills

Languages – Python, Java, C, HTML, CSS
Databases – Familiar with SQL
Operating Systems – Windows, Unix, Linux
Mobile – Android

Independent Projects

Tetrimonoes – Tetrimonoes, a remake version inspired by   Fall '17
the classical game, Tetris. Collision detection is fully functional and optimal placement detection can be activated at the user's choice for easier block placement.

Cipher Texts – Application that receives the user's desired   Fall '17
encoded text and encrypts their information with the choice of a Vigenere, Caesar, or Rail Cipher.

X-Spend - X-Spend is a financial app created to keep   Fall '17 track of expenses while sharing spending habits with both the user and friends or family members.

Activities and Leadership

Student-Run Computing and Technology Club Contribute to the development of cross-platform applications and websites for students at George Mason.